

Software User Agreement

Please read this Software User Agreement ("Agreement") carefully before using TYME ("the Software") provided by Dragon App Development ("Company"). Users of the Software should be familiar with the terms of this Agreement.

1. Purpose of the Software

The Software is designed to follow the Children's Oncology Group (COG) maintenance protocols for B- and T-cell Acute Lymphoblastic Leukemia (ALL). It automates the creation of adherence calendars for pediatric ALL patients to assist clinicians in their practice.

2. User Responsibility

The Software is intended to be used by qualified healthcare professionals ("Users"). Users are solely responsible for using the Software appropriately and in accordance with all applicable laws and medical guidelines, including the diagnosis, treatment, and care of patients. The Company makes no representations or warranties as to the clinical appropriateness or efficacy of the Software.

3. Disclaimer

While the Software is designed to follow COG maintenance protocols for ALL, the Company cannot guarantee the Software's accuracy, reliability, or clinical efficacy. Users should exercise their own clinical judgment in interpreting and applying the information generated by the Software.

4. Liability

By using the Software, Users agree to indemnify and hold harmless the Company, its affiliates, and its respective officers, directors, and employees, from any claims, liabilities, damages, losses, and expenses arising from their clinical decisions and patient care activities.

5. Termination

The Company reserves the right to terminate or suspend access to the Software for any user found to be in violation of this Agreement.

6. Governing Law

This Agreement is governed by the laws of the State of Texas, without regard to its conflict of law principles.
